Rite of Spring (2014) 35 min

Black Snow (2016) 20 min

"Black Snow" was inspired by the poems of Gaspard de la Nuit by Bertrand, the piano suites by Ravel, and the collaborative experience with pianist Ivan Moshcuk. In the first section of Ondine, the dancers are portraying the water nymphs who are attempting to seduce and observe their world of darkness, secrets, and death. The Gallows is the observer being lured into the deathly atmosphere of the nymphs and is alone to be hung at her end. Scarbo, the third and final section is the observer finally being seduced into the wicked pale world of the Nymphs and accepting her death. "Black Snow" is a modern day dark twist on a classically twisted tale.
